DAIRYMEN ARE FACING SERIOUS CONDITION

Bundeson Issues Order Barring Milk From Untested Herds.

PRODUCERS TO HOLD MEETINGS

The dairymen of Lake County are facing a serious condition in that Dr. Bundeson has issued an order that the milk from herds not tested within the last six months will be shut off from delivery to Chicago.

The County Board is hiring an associate veterinarian and the state is putting in a veterinarian to assist Dr. Grinnell through this emergency. Even with these men it is impossible to get all the herds retested before March 1st.

The Farm Bureau is putting forth every effort possible to assist the farmers in the relief of this situation.

It was through the action of the Pure Milk Association that a stay of two weeks was gained in Dr. Bundeson's order in putting it off to March 1st.

Three meetings are being held in Lake County on Monday, February 21st to consider the future action and course in the critical milk situation. A meeting will be held at Durnee at the Woodmen Hall at 10 A. M. Another meeting will be held at the Town Hall at Wauconda at 2 P. M. and at the Town Hall at Grayslake at 8 P. M.

The principal speakers for these meetings will be W. C. McQueen of Kane County and Don Geyer of McHenry county.

FLORIDA TOURISTS COMBINE BUSINESS WITH PLEASURE

Antioch Men Have Pleasant Trip to South—Three in Party Buy Florida Land.

Thirteen from this vicinity who took advantage of the excursion trip to Florida returned last Friday night after having spent about eleven days in the sunny southland. Those in the party included H. Radtke, M. M. Burke, O. E. Hawkins, C. Thorn, A. G. Watson, Antioch, Chas. Oetting, wife and son, John Geyer, and wife, Willis Sheen and G. Copper, Trevor, and George Bennett, Chicago.

Three Buy Land.

Mr. Bennett and Mr. Copper each bought ten acre tracts of land in Walton county, and Mr. Watson invested in a half section of land near Choctawhatchee Bay, also in Walton county.

The pleasant time the entire party had on the trip is described as follows by one of the party:

"We left Antioch, Tuesday, Feb. 1, and went over the Chicago and Great Eastern to Evansville, Ind., where we changed to the Louisville and Nashville, arriving at DeFuniak Springs, Florida, at 7:00 p. m. Wednesday, where Mr. R. E. McCaskill, and escorted us to the Walton Hotel, one of the finest in the south.

"Thursday morning there were four autos waiting to show us the country. First we went to Ponce de Leon Springs, where you drink water to renew your youth. Also looked over quite a number of farms being developed; showing grapes, oranges, and blueberries, one, two and three years old. Also E. F. Stanton's poultry farm where he showed us three large incubators and explained the system of testing for disease of young chickens.

"We visited a plant to extract tar and turpentine from pine stumps, which product nearly pays for the land. Visited Valparaiso and had a ride on Choctawhatchee Bay. Then we went down to Camp Walton on Gulf of Mexico and spent Sunday at Camp Walton Hotel. On the way back visited Dixie where they expect to load grain on ocean liners as the water in the bay is about 70 feet deep.

"We went to Mr. McCaskill's lodge on Gulf of Mexico and stayed over night and had fresh fish for supper and breakfast that were served out of the bay after we arrived.

"We all had a jolly good time, as Mr. McCaskill is a jolly good fellow and a royal entertainer and we can assure anyone going to Florida on one of his excursions that they will have a good time and be shown a large tract of good land."

Antioch Headquarters for Auction Sales Co.

Company Will Specialize in Conducting Farm Auctions.

The Auction Sales Company of Illinois, an incorporated company specializing in conducting farm auction sales, has selected Antioch as headquarters for this locality with a resident representative here in the person of John L. Anderson, late of Raymond Center, Wis., where he was engaged in the mercantile business. Mr. Anderson has had a wide and varied experience in the selling game and knows every angle of the business he has been chosen to represent.

Being centrally located in the district where the company plans to promulgate its business, Antioch was chosen as the most convenient point for locating the concern's business office.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are occupying the Savage residence on Ida avenue.

TWO ANTIOCH COUPLES OFF FOR TEXAS TODAY

Mr. and Mrs. Otto S. Klass and children and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Keulman left early today for Texas where they will spend about six weeks sight-seeing in that southern state. The trip is being made in Mr. Klass' new Studebaker sedan, and the party expects to be at Alton, Ill., by evening today. San Antonio will be headquarters for the party during the greater part of their stay in Texas.

During the absence of Mr. Keulman, his son, Russell, will have charge of the Keulman jewelry store, and Mr. H. J. Larsen, of Kenosha, will be manager in charge at the Klass clothing store. For many years Mr. Larsen has been with the firm of Johnson and Hansen, Kenosha's leading clothiers, but is now on a leave of absence making possible his engagement by Mr. Klass. Mr. Larsen has indicated that he will offer unusual bargains at the Klass store while the owner is away.

Having left their places of business in very capable hands there is no reason why Mr. Klass and Mr. Keulman should not forget their business cares and give themselves over to thorough enjoyment of their vacation trip.

Five Scarlet Fever Cases in Vicinity

Three Antioch homes are under quarantine because of scarlet fever. The two younger sons of Mr. and Mrs. S. Iyer Nelson, Wendell and Harry, being afflicted with the malady, as is also Emmett Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chase Webb and Helen Van Patten.

Another case of the disease was reported Wednesday afternoon, Joseph Hucker, Antioch high school student, whose home is near Lake Villa, having come down with the disease.

Present cases indicate that the disease is light in form as has been usual for the past several years, according to Dr. H. F. Beebe, Antioch health officer, who is keeping a close watch at Antioch schools to prevent a general spread of the disease.

ENTERTAINS AT BIRTHDAY PARTY

Eleanor Mortenson entertained eight girls at her home last Saturday afternoon at a birthday party. Various games were played and a very good time was enjoyed by all attending. Refreshments were served and Miss Eleanor received many pretty birthday gifts.

WHITE-LAURSEN WEDDING JAN. 29

Miss Violet White, of Lake Bluff, and Raymond Laurson, Waukegan, were united in marriage Saturday, Jan. 29, at Waukegan, Illinois.

GOVERNOR SMALL PROMISES EARLY HEARING ON ZION-ROCKFORD ROAD

King and Moran Are Antioch Representatives at Conference with Governor Tuesday.

TRAFFIC FIGURES ASTONISH SMALL

An early hearing on state highway No. 173, the Zion-Rockford road, was promised Tuesday by Governor Len Small at the close of more than an hour's conference with boosters for the road from Rockford, Harvard, Belvidere, Antioch and Zion.

After several weeks delay the conference with the Governor was arranged on very short notice and the time was set for ten o'clock Tuesday at Springfield.

King Presents Traffic Figures.

Included in the delegation of more than thirty, were John Fair, former sheriff of Boone county, Representative N. L. Jackson, Belvidere, and Representative Buckley, of Rockford, Wm. J. Stratton, Wm. F. Welles, Frank R. King and John L. Moran, of Antioch, being the Lake county representatives. Rep. Welles was spokesman for the Lake county delegation. For more than an hour Governor Small listened to weighty arguments as to the urgent need of the early completion of Route No. 173 and traffic figures collected here last June by members of the local fire department, were presented to the Governor by Mr. King. Gov. Small expressed astonishment at the volume of traffic shown by the figures and indicated that he understood the need of an east and west highway through northern Lake county, which would do much toward relieving the "bottled" traffic conditions here during the summer months.

So impressed was the Governor with the arguments in favor of the road that at the close of the conference he promised an early hearing. "Within the next few weeks," the Governor replied to someone's query as to about when the hearing would be called.

ROAD BOOSTERS MEET AT ROSCRANS WEDNESDAY

Early action and co-operation in boosting for state highway No. 173 was urged by more than forty boosters for the road in a meeting held at Roscrans church Wednesday afternoon. Edward Martin, of Milburn was elected chairman and John L. Moran, secretary for the organization to be known as "Route 173 Boosters Association."

George Bairstow, chairman of the county board of supervisors, made an interesting address regarding the securing of right-of-way, and the county engineer, Mr. Lobdell, gave some interesting information regarding highways from the engineering angle.

A committee was appointed to attend the hearing on route 61 at McHenry today, and in accordance with the motion of Supervisor Bairstow, Attorney Bishop, Frank R. King, John L. Moran and as many others as can, are attending the McHenry meeting today to bring back whatever information may be of interest or value to the association.

The sale starts promptly at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Messrs. Wm. E. Stone and R. Q. Tillman are in charge of the big sale.

FIREMEN CALLED TO LASCO HOME WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Antioch firemen were summoned to the home of L. Lasco on north Main street at eleven o'clock Wednesday night when a fire was discovered in the basement by Mrs. Lasco, who was awakened by the smell of smoke in the house. In the basement which was filled with smoke, the firemen found a pile of papers to be on fire and the use of chemicals was sufficient to extinguish the flames. Very little damage was done.

The property is owned by Fred Brown, of Waukegan.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING

The regular meeting of the Woman's Club will be held at the village hall Monday afternoon, February 21, at 2:30 o'clock. On account of the small size of the hall, it will be necessary to restrict each member to one guest. The program committee hopes, however, to see all members present and an equal number of guests.

Hillebrand & Shultis Move to New Location

Popular General Store Now in More Commodious Quarters.

Hillebrand and Shultis, Main street general merchants, are now located in their new place of business, the Hunt building, former location of Hunt's recreation parlor. The change was made the first of this week.

The moving of the large stock of goods from the Thayer building to the new location with no interruption in serving patrons of the store presented a problem not easy of solution, but the deed was done. Moving operations began Sunday and by Monday morning all opening (due the bulk of the large stock was in the new location and the firm was serving customers as usual.

The new location affords the advantage of having more window display space and more commodious quarters throughout the store besides the convenience of having the large stock all on one floor. The firm is well pleased with the change and already are feeling quite at home in their new place of business.

NURSE FINDS MANY SCHOOL CHILDREN WITHOUT DEFECTS

County Nurse Makes Report After Examination of Antioch School Children.

After having examined 162 pupils at the Antioch grade school during the past week, 21 were found to be without a defect of any kind and 25 other pupils with only slight defects, such as being slightly under weight, according to a report made yesterday by Theda Waterman, county nurse, who was in charge of the examination of school children here.

Of the 162 examined, the report shows, 24 were found to be under weight, 21 have defective vision, 95 defective teeth, 35 tonsils defective, 30 adenoids, 3 defective hearing, and other defects, 3.

46 on Perfect List. Passing the nurse's inspection and passing as perfect, as no treatment or correction was recommended, were 46 pupils, as follows:

The nurse's report is very gratifying to both teachers and parents, as it shows the standard of health in the local schools to be rather high. Such examinations have been conducted for years in many Illinois schools and they have proven to be of great benefit in locating and correcting defects in school children. It should be borne in mind, however, that such examinations are made by nurses, and that a regularly licensed physician's examination may result in the locating of defects not noted by a nurse.

SUNDAY SCHOOL BANQUET FRIDAY EVENING

The first annual Sunday school banquet given for scholars, teachers and others interested in Sunday school work, has been announced to be held at the Methodist Church Friday evening at 5:30 o'clock. Everybody invited to attend. A program is to be given. A charge of 35 cents per plate will be made.

Mrs. G. Schilke visited friends in Chicago several days last week.

ANTIOCH WINS 3 MORE CONFERENCE GAMES

Antioch had little trouble winning from Leyden at Franklin Park last Saturday night by the score of 36 to 16. Ten boys made the trip and all got to play in this game.

Wauconda came to Antioch last Friday and gave the locals a good football game but they couldn't hit the line hard enough so the locals won 25 to 11.

Due to a misunderstanding with the contractor of the new gymnasium was not opened for the Arlington Heights game Tuesday, but the people turned out anyway and packed the old gymnasium to the limit and saw the locals take an easy 37 to 14 win from Heights.

The lightweight team has won two hard games the last week. On Friday night they played a wonderful game to defeat the Allendale team 25 to 20 and Tuesday they took a hard fought overtime game from the Heights seconds 15 to 13.

On Friday night of this week Libertyville comes to Antioch for two games and if arrangements can be made with the contractor these games will be played in the new gymnasium.

Conference standing Wednesday, Feb. 16.

The estimated true value of land in Lake county has increased nine dollars per acre since April 1, 1925, according to a report compiled by R. A. Miller, tax commissioner, Chicago and North Western railroad. In eleven of the twenty-two counties included in the report land values were shown to have advanced, while a decline in the price of real estate was the case in the other eleven counties. GERALDINE BONNER

COPYRIGHT BY THE DOBBS-MERRILL CO.

PROLOGUE—While dependent over the enforced hiding of her name, Jim Dallas, slayer in self defense of Homer Parkinson, member of an influential family, Sybil Saunders, popular actress in engagement of "Twelfth Night" on Gulf Island, on the Maine coast, in the company are Sybil's bosom friend, Anne Tracy, Anne's brother Joe, young waif, and Aleck Stokes, an actor infatuated with Sybil.

CHAPTER I—After the play, which is a big hit, Wally Shine, official photographer learns something of the jealousy existing in the company.

CHAPTER II—Hugh Bassett, director of the play, and Anne Tracy's fiancé, tells Joe he has heard he is applying on Sybil in an effort to learn the whereabouts of Jim Dallas and earn the reward offered by the Parkinson family. The boy declines it.

CHAPTER III

Anne had taken off her costume and slipped into a negligee to do her packing, and then she decided she had better bid good-bye to Joe first. She wanted to tell him her great secret, see an answering joy leap into his face, for he thought more of Bassett than anybody, and he'd be so surprised to hear that Anne, her fiancé, held at a low valuation, but won such a prize.

She passed the long line of closed doors, voices coming from behind Mrs. Correll's and reaching down knowledge. A "come in" involuntarily loud and harsh, answered her and she entered. Joe was sitting in a low armchair, bent forward, his hands holding a cane with which he was tapping the floor. He looked up to see who it was; then, without greeting or comment, dropped his head and went on lightly striking the cane on the carpet as if he were hammering in a nail and it required all his attention, then raised his head and looked at her—what have you come here for? the look said.

It was not a reception to encourage confidences and she stood uncomfortably regarding him, trying to find something to say that would dispel his somber ill humor.

"You're all ready? Where's your luggage?"

"Down by the door. Is there anything else you want to know?"

"I don't want to know, I was thinking of you. You're always late, and it's different here with only one way to get ashore and Gabriel never willing to wait."

He made no answer, continuing his play with the cane. She knew that something was wrong and sat down on the arm of a chair, uneasy, wondering what it was.

"I'm glad you've managed this holiday. And it's jolly having Tommy Travers, he's such a sport. You'll meet him tonight at Bangor. At the Algonquin inn—wasn't that the name of it?"

"I want to be sure, because if any important mail should come for you I could send it there to meet you on your way back. Algonquin inn—I'll remember that. Then off tomorrow morning. It'll be lovely in the woods now."

"Any place would be lovely after this beastly hole."

"Beastly hole? I thought you liked it."

"Did you? Take another guess."

"You expected to like it. You wanted to come."

He made no answer, but slanting his body sideways with an air of ostentatious endurance, took out his watch and looked at it. She ignored the hint—you couldn't be sensitive with Joe and leaning toward him asked:

"What's the matter, Joe?"

"Matter—what?"

"You! Has anything happened?"

"Oh, no, nothing's happened." His words were mincingly soft. "What could happen with such a charming lot of people and Miss Saunders playing the star role in the performance and out?"

It was Sybil then—he'd been working himself into a bad temper over her treatment of him. Anne had thought it odd he had not mentioned it before.

"You're angry with Sybil, and I don't think she has been very nice to you. I've noticed it, especially the last three days and this afternoon when we were sitting out there on the rock I tried to make her tell me why."

He raised his head; the profile sharply defined against the window showed a working muscle in the cheek. "And did she tell you?"

"No, she didn't seem to want to talk about it. She changed the subject. There's no use getting annoyed about it, because I don't think she has any reason. You have to make excuses for her. She's gone through this awful experience and her nerves are all wracked to pieces. You have to be patient and take her as a sort of afflicted person."

He dashed the cane down and

"I don't take for that way. I take her for what she is, a d-d lying hypocrite."

"Joe!" She was amazed, not so much at the words as at the suddenness of the outburst and the contorted passion of his face.

"She thinks she can treat me any way she wants and get away with it. Well, she'll find her mistake, she's taken the wrong turning this time. She takes me for a yellow dog she can kick whenever she feels like it. But I got teeth—I can bite. Patient—be patient—G-d, I'd like to wring her neck the d-d—"

He used an epithet that brought Anne to her feet, breathing rather "Don't dare to say that of my friend, Joe Tracy."

He stood in front of her, hump shouldered, with outthrust jaw, brows drawn low over eyes gleaming like a cat's. She had never seen him look like that; he seemed a stranger, a horrible stranger, and she drew away against the revelation of a being so sinisterly unfamiliar. Her look brought him back to self-control. He jerked his head up, ran a hand over his hair, and turned away to the window. Standing there he said:

"Well, I take that back. I didn't mean to say it. But she's made me mad; I think she'd make anybody."

The tone, surely still, had a phlegmatic quality; it was as near an apology as Joe could ever come. She felt immeasurably relieved, for he had frightened her. She accepted his amends without comment, but she could not resist a sisterly admonition:

"If you'd only stop getting mad over small things you'd find life so much easier."

He laughed:

"Good advice from little sister! It doesn't cost anything and it's the correct genuine pose."

He turned from the window smiling, Joe at his most amiable. If he had met her this way she would have poured out her secret. But her high moor had fallen and testifies he wanted her to go—he said he had a letter to write yet. Lounging toward her, he put his hands on her shoulders, gave her a light kiss on the cheek and pushed her toward the door.

On her way back along the gallery she recalled his face in that moment of rage with troubled question. She wondered if there was more disturbing him than she knew—it was an extraordinary exhibition of anger for such a cause. She heaved a sigh of relief at the thought that he was going. In his present mood there was no knowing what clashes there might be, and it was the last evening, and there would be a full moon, and she and Bassett would walk like lovers under its magic light.

When her door had closed, the gallery and living room became as quiet as though the house were unoccupied. Sybil, approaching it, heard no sound of voices, a fact that reassured her, for the long day had tired her and she had no mind for talk. She was coming in by the balcony when she saw Flora Stokes sitting there reading and deflected her course toward the path that skirted the building's front. If Flora noticed her she made no sign, her eyes glued to her book, and Sybil, stopping softly, for she dreaded the woman's resentful glances, passed along to the entrance of the living room. The place was deserted and she stopped on the threshold for a last look at the sky's fading splendors.

Across the depths of the room the door into the hall opened, but so gently that she did not hear it. Stokes made this noiseless entrance. In the hope that she might be there, and now, seeing his hope fulfilled, closed the door as carefully, standing against it watching her.

Seeing that she did not turn he pronounced her name. At that she wheeled, lightning-quick, and came forward from beneath the deep jut of the gallery assuming an unconcerned manner as she could.

"Lovely evening," she said as she advanced. "It's been hard to come in."

"Evidently from the length of time you stayed out there. I've been waiting for you."

It was not a propitious beginning, especially as he still stood against the door as if intending to bar her exit.

"I'm going upstairs to dress now."

"There's plenty of time. You can give me a few minutes. I've something I want to say to you."

"Oh, Aleck!" She stopped with an air of weary exasperation. "Don't say anything more. Don't begin that dreadful subject. I'm sick of it. I loathe it and can't you see it isn't any use?"

He went on as if he hadn't heard her:

"I've been trying for days, ever since I came here. And you keep avoiding me, always having some one with you. Now we'll be going tomorrow, we may not have another chance, and I must see you and tell you."

She had heard nothing until thought it odd that he should be so suddenly cautious. Discretion had been the last quality he had heretofore shown.

"I have avoided you and I'm going to continue doing it. Please move away from the door. It's silly to stand in front of it, for I can go round by the garden, but I'm tired and I don't want to."

He came forward, speaking as he advanced:

"This isn't what you think. I'm done with that. You've made me understand; you've gotten it across. Sybil, I'm not going to bother you any more with that subject you loathe and think so dreadful. But I can't help loving you and wanting to help you."

She gave an exasperated gesture and made a move to pass him. As she did so, he said: "I've heard something of Jim Dallas. Just before I left town I met an actor who says he saw him."

"Are you telling the truth?"

"Why should I lie? What do I gain by it? I swore the fellow to secrecy and came up here to tell you and I've been trying."

She broke in: "Was he sure? Where was he?"

The change in her manner would have crushed the hope in any man. Shouting him like a leper, she now drew close and laid her hand on his arm.

"I can't tell you here. It's too dangerous, too many people coming and going."

"It was Jim?"

"It was. It's quite a story, more than just seeing him. But we've got to get somewhere away from all these d-d doors—"

One of them opened—that into the hall behind them. They heard it and wheeled round, faces sharpened in defensive interrogation. It was Flora Stokes, and Stokes, his senses more alert than the girl's, withdrew his arm from her clasp.

"Oh, Flora," he said, his voice supremely light and easy. "Were you looking for me?"

Mrs. Stokes said no, she had come to put her book back. She walked to a table and placed her book on a corner. The room was very still as she did this.

"It seems I've intruded," said Mrs. Stokes, each syllable meticulously clear and precise. "But if you want to be alone I should think you'd have chosen another place."

"Having chosen this is a pretty good proof we didn't want to be alone," retorted her husband.

She gave a light jerking sound of disbelief and walked to the entrance. The still she turned and looked at them with smoldering eyes.

"Don't be afraid I'll stay. I'm going for a walk on the front of the island. That's as far away as I can get; I'd go further if I could."

She passed out of the door and Stokes turned to the girl:

"There—that's what I was afraid of. Some of the rest of them may come in at any minute. We've got to get out of here, some place outside."

"The Point—the summer-house. I'll go down there now—you follow me."

She ran to the entrance, he at her heels. Walking leisurely up the path to the summer-house was Sybil. She threw out her hands with a distracted gesture and struck a foot on the floor in a frantic stamp. Stokes smothered an oath. "Tell me here," she implored, but he answered with an imperative shake of the head.

"The garden." She was half-way across the room before he caught her up, and this time it was he who laid his hand on her arm:

"Sybil, have some sense. You'll get us in wrong every way. You don't want any of these people to see us out there whispering together. That's just the place they'll go while they're waiting round for supper. Listen now, get a hold on yourself. Jim's safety is more important than your anxiety. That photographer chap's just strutting round killing time; he'll move on from there presently. Go up to your room and wait. You can see the Point from your window. If he's gone by seven, come down and go along to the summer-house. I'll watch, too, and I'll meet you there."

She opened her lips for a last protest, then, evidently seeing there was nothing else for it, gave out a groan.

ing "All right" and left the room. He followed her, saw her mount the stairs, and walked out on the balcony. He could see the figure of his wife moving slowly toward the ocean bluffs. A newspaper lay on a table near him and he took it up stumping down in his chair as one who relinquishes him self to a regained interest, but he did not read.

Among the citations which com prised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "And there sat a certain man at Lystra, impotent in his feet, being a cripple from his mother's womb, who never had walked: The same heard Paul speak: who steadfastly beholding him, and perceiving that he had faith to be healed, said with a loud voice, Stand upright on thy feet.
And he leaped and walked" (Acts 14: 8-10).

The Lesson-Sermon also in cluded the following passages from the Christian Science textbook,
"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:
"The Science of Christianity comes with an in hand to separate the chaff from the wheat. Science will declare God aright, and Christianity will demonstrate this declaration and its divine Principle, making unmaking better physically, morally, and spiritually" (p. 490).

When You Putty Windows
To make a neater job in puttying in the corners of the wood, while the point of the blade rest on the glass.

When pushed down hard the knife will not slip, and a straight line of putty is insured, says the Popular Sci

The Red Seal is the national emblem which the electrical industry awards to owners of houses and apartments adequately wired for electrical service. The Red Seal Plan is a simple summing up of the technical details of wiring installation and is used as explained below:

Wire right in the beginning
— it costs less

Plans have been designed under the direction of the most noted electrical authorities, providing for the installation of adequate wiring in any building, large or small.

These standards of home electrical comfort, known as Red Seal Plans, have the approval of Lake County Electric League and are now available to anyone free of charge.

They eliminate all guess work in wiring... assure you pleasing and artistic illumination, the proper location of switches and a sufficient installation of convenience outlets.

Wilmot News

WILMOT HIGH SCHOOL

Wilmot High School, Kenosha county's lone high school outside of the city, won a fast game Wednesday from its old rival, Genoa City, by the close score of 18-16. The Wilmot boys were outwheeled by about ten pounds to the man, and were also handicapped from lack of size, but they played a fast game, never stopping until the game was won. The largest crowd that ever attended a basket ball game in Wilmot was present, and the cheers were so deafening that at times not even the shrill whistle of the referee could be heard above the cheering.

The Wilmot team played a remarkable defensive game, successfully breaking up the scoring offensive of the visitors, which centers around their giant pivot man, Baker. Frank was the leading scorer of the game, caging four field goals and three free shots, as well as playing a fast game. Splendid teamwork was the outstanding feature of the Wilmot play.

The Wilmot team has built up an enviable record this season, having won six games and lost one with Wisconsin high schools. The last six games have been victories, and they include games with Watertown, Williams Bay and Union Grove. Next Tuesday evening they meet the Vocational School team from Kenosha.

Barber's Silver Lake Badgers added another victory to their long string by defeating the Burlington Foresters, 29-11. The Badgers played a fast, driving game, and had such a strong defense that the visitors were helpless and had to resort to long shots, of which they made but three. Chief among the Silver Lake luminaries were Schultz, who in his first game at forward caged eight baskets. Richter, Schurr, Hie-hards and Schmalfeldt also played well.

A former game played between the same two teams also resulted in a victory for Silver Lake. Barber's men have been playing a fast brand of ball all season, having chalked up victories over the McWhites, Independent Roofing Company teams, Kenosha, Hurd's Toggies of Union Grove and have lost one game to McHenry. The team has a large following of enthusiastic fans who follow them wherever they go. The next game will be with Lake Geneva, Tuesday evening on the Wilmot floor.

A successful Valentine Party was given to the student body by the Senior Class Saturday evening in the gymnasium. Stunts and dancing occupied most of the time, a feature of the evening being the Jewish impersonation by Charles Jurelek. Music was furnished by three students of the Genoa High School.

A very delightful banquet, lunch was served in the basement, with the tables prettily decorated in class colors. A Valentine favor was presented to each one present. At the banquet Mr. Mulder acted as impromptu toast master and called on representatives from the students for speeches. Fred Forster, Don Tyler, Ruth Stoen and Gertrude Ganger won applause for their addresses.

Four games remain on the basket ball schedule. Tuesday evening of this week the boys clash with the Kenosha Vocational School, Friday night they journey to Williams Bay, Wednesday, Feb. 23rd, they play in the cracker-box gymnasium at Richmond, coming to close the season against Watertown on Feb. 25th.

Genoa City Sport writers lay the blame for their recent defeat at the hands of Wilmot to the lack of the Wilmot boys to sink long tries for the basket. The Wilmot boys play basket ball for the love of the game and for the glory of the school. When they lose, they offer no aid, but take the defeat in a sportmanlike manner, vowing to come back stronger in the next game. The boys have made their spirit one of sportsmanship first, victory afterward.

M. M. Schurr attended the Southern Wisconsin Teachers' Convention held at Madison last Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Schultz, Mrs. J. Hasselman, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Albrecht were amongst those from Wilmot who were in Kenosha during the week.

The Miss Carey's entertained at "50c" Monday evening for the Wilmot school teachers.

There was an excellent attendance at the P. T. A. meeting held at the gymnasium last week Tuesday. An interesting program of Song Selections by the Girls' Glee Club. A reading by Miss Castleburg, a vocal duet by Emerson Schmalfeldt and Earl Wood and a talk illustrated with slides by County Superintendent Hildebrandt was given. Musical selections by the High School Brass Sextet completed the entertainment. A committee of five furnished and served the refreshments.

Mrs. B. Nett, Mrs. F. Kruckman, Mrs. H. McDougall and Grace Carey. A meeting of the Ladies' of the West Kenosha County Fair Association preceded the program. The treasurer's report given by Mrs. C. Barber showed that $700.23 was taken in at the fair dinners, $422.86 spent on expenses with a balance of $303.83 on hand. A discussion as to the best results to be obtained from this fund resulted in the acceptance of Mrs. F. Lewis' motion to spend the amount for stage scenery, a rehearsal for the school moving machine and the remainder for chairs for the gymnasium. Mrs. A. Stoen, chairman appointed Eldon Mulder, Mrs. C. Barber and Grace Carey, to purchase the articles.

The same officers were re-elected for another year, Mrs. A. C. Stoen, chairman; Mrs. Roy Burton, Vice-Chairman; Mrs. Charles Barber, treasurer and Ermine Carey, Secretary.

PEOPLE'S COLUMN

Signed Communications Will Be Accepted For Publication In This Column

This morning (Monday) while watching a neighboring Business Man pay for removing snow from the street in front of his place of business, the Vehicle Tax and "Peoples' Column" came to my mind. I would like to ask the Chairman of the Street and Alley Committee (where are the alleys?) why $500.00 Vehicle Tax money was spent for surveying Lake street for paving purposes?

When Main street was paved the surveying charge became a part of the Special Assessment and is being paid now by property owners on Main street. It occurs to me that the fair way to do would be to treat this expense on Lake street in the same way. I even question the legality of using Vehicle Tax money for this purpose.

By the way, this same business man who paid for removing snow also paid a "Business Tax" nearly a year ago for maintaining our new "White Way." What became of that money? It was never refunded.

A VEHICLE TAX PAYEE.

About forty boys took part in a two-mile cross country run on Sunday afternoon. The course was over roads, across fields and finally across the ice of Cedar Lake to Allendale. The race was open to all classes and sizes of boys. George Kee won first honor and was awarded a fleetfoot emblem. William Baldwin finished second and Chas. Gray third.

Allendale lost a slow, poorly played game Friday evening to the Antioch high school lights by a 25 to 20 score at the Antioch gym. Witt-kind had high scoring honors with seventeen points for Allendale, while Sheehan and Bernoffo starred for Antioch with 10 and 9 points respectively.

On Saturday afternoon, Feb. 19th, Allendale first team plays the Evanston Press Club. In a preliminary game the Allendale 95's will play the Evanston Junior Press Club team. The first game is scheduled for 2:30 P. M.

The Lake Villa town team has a busy schedule at Allendale gym this week. On Monday evening Lake Villa lost to Fort Sheridan Soldiers by a 50 to 17 score. Last night (Wednesday) Lake Villa played the Green Bay, Wis. team.

On Friday night Lake Villa plays North Chicago at Allendale. The visitors have not lost a game this season. In a preliminary game the Allendale 1928 team will play Lake Villa A. C.

FORD TUDOR SEDAN IS NOW EQUIPPED WITH WIRE WHEELS

"Another instance of how Ford continuously increases value is shown in the latest announcement that Ford wire wheels are standard equipment on the Tudor sedan" says R. F. Corrin, of the Antioch Sales and Service Station, Ford dealer here, said in discussing the many improvements that have been made in Ford cars.

"The Ford wire wheels which have been standard on the Fordor sedan for some time and now are standard on the Tudor sedan, are as fine wheels as can be found anywhere," he continued.

"In developing these wheels the company, as in everything else it does, figured on quantity production, and adopted a method of welding the spokes into the hub and rim, a process which can be done quickly. As a result, exceptionally heavy spokes are used and the Ford wire wheel is as sturdy a wheel as can be found anywhere. It is practically one piece, for the spokes are thoroughly welded into both hub and rim.

"Another feature is that there are not so many spokes as in other wheels and they are so placed that it is an easy matter to keep the wheels clean. These wheels also come in several colors, giving the car purchaser an opportunity of choosing wheels of a color he most desires."

Slaves Were Shaved

A clean-shaven face in the East was originally a sign of servitude. Old pictures show kings and conquerors heavily bearded and with long hair, while their slaves and captives are clean-shaven and close-cropped. The Greeks and the Romans later discarded "face-tunings," as it gave their enemies a handhold in the close fighting, which was, of course, the rule in those days.

Lighthouse Illumination

Most of the American lighthouses guarding ships against coastal rocks have now run the complete gamut of lighting in the last 200 years. They began with fish oil and then proceeded through sperm oil, rapeseed or colza oil, kerosene, and finally electricity upon which much dependence is put nowadays.

That Hidden Tax of $420,000,000

Of which you periodically are paying your share

OVER four hundred millions of dollars! This is the burden carried this past twelve months by owners of poppet-valve cars for one cause alone—to remedy the engine-havoc wrought by carbon.

That this tremendous tax is entirely unnecessary is being demonstrated every day by the scores of thousands whose foresight and good business judgment led them to avoid the poppet-valve type of car and ensure for themselves complete immunity from all carbon troubles in the purchase of sleeve-valve Willys-Knights.

No carbon complications. No valves to grind. An engine that is fool-proof, wear-proof, practically trouble-proof—and which, because it has from 118 to 158 fewer working parts, is almost wholly free from the need for adjustments or repairs...

These are the practical advantages that are yours in the superbly beautiful, exquisitely appointed Willys-Knight Great Six and its companion car, the "70" Willys-Knight Six. In the name of economy, and satisfaction, and pride in the beauty and performance-ability of your next car, you really owe it to yourself to become informed upon these cars before committing yourself to any less desirable automobile.

Willys-Knight Great Six prices from $1850 to $2295; "70" Willys-Knight Six, from $1295 to $1495; f. o. b. factory and specifications subject to change without notice... Our Finance Plan offers unusually attractive credit terms.

Region of Intense Heat

The climate of Death valley, Calif., is due in a measure to its configuration. It consists of a long, narrow parallel valley, considerably below sea level. The Panamint mountains shut out from it the moist winds of the Pacific, so that in August there is less than one-half of 1 per cent of moisture in the atmosphere.
